APPENDIX II.

[Vide answer to starred question No. 658 asked by Sri K. Sattanatha Karayalar at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly held on 10th April 1958, page 480 supra.]

There are at present 30 Honorary Surgeons, 20 Honorary Physicians and 245 Honorary Assistant Medical Officers in the various Government medical institutions in this State.

2. Rules have been laid down to govern the terms and conditions of service of Honorary Medical Officers. According to the rules, appointments to the posts of Honorary Medical Officers and Honorary Assistant Medical Officers are made on a consideration of the recommendations made by the Director of Medical Services. In making his recommendations, the Director of Medical Services shall consult a Committee, consisting in the City, of the Dean, or Superintendent of the hospital and one Honorary Medical Officer on the staff and in the mufassal, of the District Medical Officer and one Honorary Medical Officer of the district. Appointments are usually made for a term of five years. On the termination of the period of appointment, the vacancy will be advertised. Persons who had held a post for a term of five years can apply for re-appointment for a further term and subject to their satisfactory work and conduct they are generally re-appointed for further terms at the discretion of the Government. Honorary Medical Officers who have attained the age of 55 years should produce a certificate of physical fitness if they wish to continue in service. There are two categories of posts, i.e., Honorary Medical Officers (Surgeons and Physicians) and Honorary Assistant Medical Officers. A candidate for appointment to the post of Honorary Medical Officer (Surgeon or Physician) should have served as a Honorary Assistant Medical Officer in the concerned speciality for a period of not less than eight years or should produce evidence of having worked in a similar capacity in a recognized institution for a similar period. Persons possessing high post-graduate qualifications and who are considered competent and possess adequate experience in the speciality can, however, be appointed as Honorary Medical Officers after having served as Honorary Assistant Medical Officers for five years. Honorary Officers are required to serve for at least three hours a day. No remuneration is allowed to them. A few posts in the special departments like the Skin department and a few more in teaching medical institutions, to which teaching duties are attached, however, carry honoraria ranging from Rs. 100 to Rs. 150 per mensem. Honorary Medical Officers (Surgeons and Physicians) are placed in independent charge of wards like Civil Surgeons. Honorary Medical Officers in teaching medical institutions are also required to impart clinical instruction to medical students. Honorary Officers employed in City Medical Institutions are liable for transfer within the City but those employed in the mufassal are not liable for transfer from place to place.
